LEAVING HOME.

The sun peeped over the Eastern hill
Into the mist-draped valley below,
The mocking-bird poised for a farewell trill,
"So sorry, dear heart, that you must go."

By the door she stood; one last, fond look
At the things she had loved away;
The hills, the trees, the flowers and brook;
A tearful handclasp, then she went away.

EQUITY AND NON-EQUITY FIGHT

Contest for Democratic Nomi- nation in the Ninth District Seems to Have Settled Down to That Basis

A Carlisle dispatch says: "The fight for the Democratic nomination for Congress in the Ninth District between Hon. Edgar B.
Hager of Ashland and former Congressman James N. Kehoe of Maysville is becoming of especial interest in Fleming county, where it is said the fight may become much of an Equity and anti-Equity matter. Fleming county is naturally for the former Congressman, if it were possible to eliminate the Equity question, but it now seems that that question will have a part in the contest. The Equity people seem to be lining up strongly for Kehoe, and he will likely get their full strength in the county in the mass convention, while, on the other hand, the non-Equity people appear to be very bitter against him, and should they decide to make a determined fight against him, the result in the County Convention will be doubtful, with the chances in favor of Hager.

It will be remembered that the non-Equity people won out in the Democratic County Convention which was held at Flemingsburg, July 6th, when delegates to the Lexington Convention were selected.

"But the support of Mr. Hager in the tobacco growing portion of the District will not be confined to the non-Equity people. While it may be true that Mr. Kehoe will have the support of a majority of the Equity people, there are many of them who favor the candidacy of Mr. Hager, whom they consider favorable to their cause.

"Nicholas and Harrison counties continue to be the bone of contention in the race, and the supporters of each candidate in these counties are determined and hope for success.
Mr. Hager's chances of carrying Nicholas seem to grow brighter each day notwithstanding the strong support Mr. Kehoe has. Although Fleming county may be carried by the Hager men, it is believed that Mr. Hager can win the nomination without Fleming if he can carry Nicholas and Harrison and there is where the fight is being waged."

The entrance of Commonwealth's Attorney Hennessey into the contest would seem to give him control of Bracken county.

HUNDRED TURKEYS

Die When Lightning Hits Tree— Falling Trunk Kills Cattle

A tree, in which 120 turkeys were roosting, was struck by lightning at Lebanon, O. All but two of the turkeys met instant death and the tree was split, falling upon a herd of cattle, killing two steers and injuring a cow so badly that it had to be shot.

The stock was the property of John Mc-Intire of Clarksville.

NewComers

Some very effective Galatea and Linen Coat Suits have just arrived. The former in the fashionable stripes —white with black, navy or Alice blue; the latter in natural linen color. The Skirts are the popular thirteen gore with band trimming. The Coats are two lengths 30 and 36 inch and are very smart with their bias band, fancy pocket and button trimming. For less than the making would cost at the cheapest dressmaker—$4.98
—you can buy a man tailored suit ready to put on.

SHIRTWAIST SPECIAL

The tailored suit suggests the tailored waist.
We have some manufacturer's samples of India linen and cross barred muslin which we secured at a price that enables us to mark them 69c though they are regular $1 values. In the lot, taken from our regular stock, are some lace and embroidery trimmed waists ranging from $1.25 to $2.25; they are soiled and have long sleeves—two faults easily corrected, and quite worth the trouble, when you can secure these splendid values for 69c.

ECONOMY SKIRTS

We call them that because the price is so little.
They are made of splendid quality white linene, in the new flared gore pattern. Think of buying a stylish white skirt, carefully made and hung in one of the season's newest models,

FOR PRESIDENT,

FOR VICE-PRESIDENT,
JAMES S. SHERMAN, of New York.

FOR CONGRESS,
Hon. JOSEPH B. BENNETT.

ROOSEVELT refuses to talk into a phonograph. He would rather talk into a megaphone.

THERE is so little money earned in attending to other people's affairs that we wonder people don't quit it and get busy with their own.

A NEWSPAPER headline declares that the battles of the future will be fought in the air. The battles of the present are fought with hot air.

THE figures show that as wages advance the price of food also advances. With fair wages you can always buy what you want or you can let it alone. Wages, though, control the situation, as far as domestic living is concerned.

UNLESS the plans are changed Secretary TAFT will spend two months at the Virginia Hot Springs, where he will be ready to receive Republican pilgrims. After that he proposes to go to his Cincinnati home and remain until the election. He has been asked to speak at the Nebraska State Fair at Lincoln, where Mr. BRYAN is already scheduled to speak.

ONE of the new Denver suffragettes is quoted as saying that she will vote for TAFT this year, as she can vote for BRYAN at any time.

SPEAKER CANNON declares that Congressman THEODORE BURTON of Ohio is "the greatest living legislator." Senator FORAKER will probably file a minority report.

In his efforts to corral the labor vote Mr. GOMPERS is going to run up against a lot of peevish persons who simply will insist on doing their own thinking.—Washington Post.

THAT is a good Civil Service report from the Pennsylvania Railroad, which shows among the Company's active employees 1,350 men who have been at work more than forty years. Evidently the idea prevails in the general offices that it does not hurt a man in efficiency to mature with the business.

SECRETARY TAFT has been advised by a number of his influential friends to conduct his campaign pretty much on the lines laid down twelve years ago by the late President McKINLEY, who, it will be recalled, remained continuously at Canton and did not leave his home town to make a single speech on the stump.

ROSE STAHL TELLS A NEW STORY.

Rose Stahl, who is at present in Europe, where she is enjoying a much needed rest previous to the re-opening of her engagement in "The Chorus Lady," tells a new one on the mother-in-law. When the proverbial mischief maker came to stay with the newly married pair for the dozenth time she found her daughter in tears on the doorstep.

"I suppose George has left you," she sniffed.
"Yes," (sob)
"Then there's a woman in the case?" she asked, her eyes lighting up expectantly.
"Yes," (sob)
"Who is it?" she demanded.
"You," (sob)
"Gracious!" exclaimed the mother-in-law; "I'm sure I never gave him any encouragement."

THE DIPLOMAT

By A. M. Perkerson.

The diplomat pressed his finger tips together and gazed pensively into the fire. A valet glided into the room.

"A lady wishes to see you, sir."
"Who is she?"

"She declines to give her name, sir."

"Is she slender; brown hair and eyes; imperious carriage?"

"Yes, sir."

A satisfied smile stole over the diplomat's face. "Show her into this room."

"This way, madam," said the valet.

A girl of dark, passionate beauty swept into the room. "My business is very important," she said.

"There is no danger of being overheard," the diplomat replied.

"I am Theresa Victoria, daughter of President Manuel Victoria," she said, in a low voice.

The diplomat kept a wary eye on her right hand, which was concealed in a fur muff.

"Now, I intend to shoot you as coldly and brutally as you did him."

The hand in the muff moved, and the diplomat spoke hastily. "I knew two days ago you were coming," he said.

"Far from assassinating your father, I was the only one who tried to befriend him in his misfortune. Look at this."

He took a slip of paper from the desk. It read:

Discharge Mansel Victoria.

(Signed) MIGREUL GONZALES.

"I forced that from Gonzales when your father was in prison, but it came too late. I was hand in glove with Gonzales at the insurrection two years ago. But we were never anything more. I wanted your father ousted from the presidency, but I would have done anything to protect him from personal injury. I forced Gonzales to give me that order, but before I reached the prison I learned of his assassination." He paused a moment.

"It was not I who killed your father; it was the commander of the prison, Capt. Manuel Imez."

"But I thought—" the girl interrupted.

"You thought that Imez was your father's best friend, and had to fly the country. Imez murdered your father because he thought that by assassinating him he would gain favor with Gonzales."

"Gonzales was anxious to get rid of your father, but he had nothing to do with his murder."

He pressed a button in the wall near the desk. "Ask Capt. Santos to come here," he said to the valet. "He is Imez," he explained to the girl. "He fled back three months ago, thinking, as you did, that I was your father's enemy. I have been sheltering him since."

The door opened. "Capt. Santos," announced the valet. A large fat man with a flabby, bestial face entered.

"Theresa Victoria," the diplomat said in a low voice, sweeping one hand toward the girl, "daughter of President Mansel Victoria." The fat man's face suddenly became white, and he moved back until his hand rested against the wall. "The man who assassinated your father." The diplomat pointed to Imez, and turned to the girl. She was looking at the man against the wall, her eyes flaming. Suddenly her hand whisked from the muff and something glittered. A pistol cracked, and the fat man tumbled to the floor.

The diplomat jerked the pistol from the girl's hand, and seized her by the arm. His hand ran along the wainscoting and something clicked. A secret door flew open. It was the entrance to a dark corridor, into which he thrust the girl.

"Follow this passageway," he exclaimed. "It will take you to the street. Never tell any one what you have done."

He slammed the secret door to and hurried back to the man on the floor. He was dead. Slipping the girl's pistol into one of the lifeless hands, he rang for the valet.

"Remember, you admitted no one to this room but him," pointing to the body on the floor.

"Yes, sir."

In a few minutes the police had been summoned. "Suicide, captain," the diplomat explained. "Money matters, you know. Poor devil!"

This woman says she was saved from an operation by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Lena V. Henry, of Norristown, Ga., writes to Mrs. Pinkham:

"I suffered untold misery from female troubles. My doctor said an operation was the only chance I had, and I dreaded it almost as much as death."

"One day I read how other women had been cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I decided to try it. Before I had taken the first bottle I was better, and now I am entirely cured."

"Every woman suffering with any female trouble should take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has positively cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness or nervous prostration. Why don't you try it?

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health. Address, Lynn, Mass.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address, F. J. Ice Cream Flavors

So much of the delicious quality of ice cream, ices and similar dainties depends upon the flavoring extracts that we are sure no one would think of using any other kind after they once tried ours. Our Vanilla and Lemon Extracts have a rare and peculiar delicacy and strength of flavor that is entirely missing in anything but the pure fruit extracts properly made. We make our flavors in our own laboratory from the choicest materials and know there can be nothing purer or better.

JUDGE LANDIS REVERSED STANDARD OIL WINS

In Biggest Case on Record—U. S. Court of Appeals Unanimous in Its Findings

CHICAGO, July 22d.—By unanimous opinion of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals for the Seventh District, the famous case of the Government against the Standard Oil Company, in which the latter was fined $29,240,000 by Judge Landis in the District Court, must be retried. This opinion, concurred in by Judges Baker and Seaman, was delivered here today by Judge Grosscup, who wrote the opinion. The concluding sentence of the opinion reads:

"The judgment of the District Court is reversed and the case remanded with instructions to grant a new trial and proceed further in accordance with this opinion."

The opinion begins with a brief statement of the manner in which the case was brought from the District Court to the Court of Appeals.

The Court of Appeals differs with the trial Court on three vital points, holding that Judge Landis excluded evidence for the Standard Oil Company of Indiana, which should have been admitted to show proper intent in the rate the Company paid on oil; that he erred in considering each car lot a separate offense, and that in imposing the maximum fine for a first offense he abused the discretion vested in his Court. It is strange doctrine, says the opinion, where under a million dollar corporation such as the defendant—the Standard Oil Company of Indiana—may be fined 29 times the amount of its capital stock in order to punish a defendant not even under indictment. By this latter is meant the parent Company, the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey.

COURT RAPS LANDIS.

"Is a sentence such as this . . . sound? Can a Court without abuse of judicial discretion wipe out all the property of the defendant before the Court and all the assets to which its creditors look in an effort to reach and punish a party that is not before the Court—a party . . . that is not even indicted? Can an American Judge without abuse of judicial discretion condemn anyone who has not had his day in Court?"

"That, to our mind, is strange doctrine in Anglo-Saxon jurisprudence. . . . Can that rightfully be done here on no other basis than the Judge's personal belief that the party marked by him for punishment deserves punishment? If so it is because the man who happens to be Judge is above the law."

NIGHT RIDERS

Burn Three Illinois Central Depots in Western Kentucky—Anarchy Rampant

FRANKFORT, Ky., July 22d.—Three depots of the Illinois Central Railroad Company were burned in Western Kentucky last night according to information received by wire by Adjutant General Johnston and Governor Willson this morning.

The belief among the State authorities is that this is part of an organized and determined effort which will be made to get rid of the soldiers in that part of the State, especially in Trigg county.

The depots burned were at Otter Pond, Cerulean Springs and Gracey, and on the line of Trigg and Caldwell counties, and upon the night riders is placed the responsibility for this latest outbreak.

It was known here that the situation in Lyon county was serious and that there might be trouble, but no requests have been made for troops.

The information which came to the Governor was that the three depots were burning at the same time.

Captain Martin E. Brown died at his home in Gallipolis Sunday. He, with his brother, ran the Hattie Brown in the Augusta-Maysville trade in 1887 and 1888.

TESTED AND PROVEN

There is a Heap of Solace in Being Able to Depend Upon a Well-Earned Reputation.

For months Maysville readers have seen the constant expression of praise for Doan's Kidney Pills, and read about the good work they have done in this locality. Not another remedy ever produced such convincing proof of merit.

Mrs. John E. Burns, living in the Western part of Maysville, Ky., says:

"I value Doan's Kidney Pills just as highly today as when I gave a statement in their favor some years ago. Prior to their use I was subject to frequent attacks of kidney trouble. At times the pain in my back was so acute that I was rendered almost helpless and confined to my bed for days at a time. The quick and decided relief I obtained from Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at J. J. Wood & Son's Drugstore, was very gratifying, and during the years which have elapsed I have had no serious return of kidney trouble. On some occasions I have felt a slight backache, but a few doses of Doan's Kidney Pills have never failed to ward off any serious trouble."
